

we build recruitment & digital solutions for growth companies

One pager

specialist direct-hire

Traditional 'success-fee' recruitment, powered by a crack team of specialists; these are the guys who are honing their craft daily, living and breathing their respective fields, and leaving no unearthly stone unturned in the hunt for those hires so integral to your successful growth. A more traditional recruitment model, we focus on key areas where only experts will do. Data & Analytics for the intricate stuff, Software Development to build the team, and Commercial to keep the wheels turning.

embedded recruitment

Embedded recruitment is on-demand, expert talent. It's your in-house team with all the perks of having outhouse friends. It's the hired help who bring with them all of the latest fancy tools and equipment. It's the convenient solution that doesn't sacrifice on quality and it's something we've got pretty good at. Embedded Talent Partners from bubb come armed with technology that sees them able to recruit at a pace previously unseen amongst humans, whilst giving you constant access to our research & strategy teams, our creative dept, and just about anything we have going spare in the fridge at bubb HQ.

market-entry

When it comes to internationalization and new marketentry, no one does it better than bubb. Kicking off with research & advisory, we'll tell you everything you need to know about a new territory before you deploy teams; salary benchmarking, competitor analysis, talent pool insight and more. We'll then localize your employer brand and deliver a launch campaign via local channels and online media. Our EOR partners then have you covered when it comes to payroll, HR technology, local rules and regulations (all that very important back-office stuff). But then the fun part, we will be there with our local talent experts to kick-off hiring and deliver a succesful project
