global talent research

We deliver custom talent research projects for businesses on a global scale. Whether it's tracking compensation data for Developers in Delhi, Sales Executives in Stockholm, providing diversity analytics Germany, or even delivering comprehensive info about employment laws and tax, we act as a one-stop-shop research partner for some of the world's fastest growing companies.

compensation data

It's one of the biggest headaches for companies, but one of the most essential parts of human capital management. We're able to analyse salary data, incentive structures & benefits, on a global scale to provide you with the information you need to make better hiring decisions and ensure compensation fairness. And it's bespoke; tailored to the unique needs of our clients across 200+ countries.

competitor tracking

Checking out global hiring patterns to understand recruitment strategies and talent acquisition trends of your rival companies. Gain insights into workforce planning and the skills & roles your industry competitors are focusing on enabling you to create competitive employee offerings, and make better people decisions at home & abroad.

discounts for friends

Let us provide your insight & guidance, and let Deel power your end to end global hiring. Getting your people management decisions off to a flying start with 20% off for Deel customers on basic, monthly subscription, and bespoke research packages, in 100+ countries.
